This & That...

The children have jumped right back into the swing of things here at school. I am so proud of them for transitioning into our routines once again. I missed them terribly during those 2 weeks and was as excited about starting back or more than they were!

I will be sending the newsletter home via email and through my webpage on the district site. If you have any questions or concerns, please let me know. If you are unable to access the internet, I will send you a paper copy. I will send it sometime on Monday of each week. This newsletter is late because I am having HUGE computer issues again. It was this time last January when my computer crashed and I had to try to reconstruct EVERYTHING! I am old and have a lot of "stuff"!

January is a relatively calm month (unless the weather kicks up) and we don't have lots of calendar issues. There are two important dates besides Martin Luther King, Jr. Day though that we are trying to work out some special activities for 100th Day of School and Kansas Day. Those fall at the end of the month or beginning of February and I will update you as plans are made.

The kids are learning to work with numbers 0-12 during math time. They are writing the numbers, counting sets, creating sets, etc. It seems to be easy for them. We are, however, beginning to watch for and correct reversals. reversals.
