

Baker's Corner

Wednesday
January 30, 2012

*Mrs. Jane Baker B107
/ 883-2996 Ext. 1218*

Lunch: 11:40-12:05
Specials: 10:10-11:00
AM Recess: 9:50 AM
PM Recess: 1:45 PM
Tardy Bell 7:55!

Dismissal 2:55!

GREAT JOB
AR READING!

Parent-Teacher
Conferences:
Feb. 15-16.

No School Fri.
Feb. 17th or
Mon. Feb. 20th.

GREETINGS on this last week of January and now FEBRUARY!!!!!!! Leap Year!
Monday, 30th: Lesson 16
Testing day for Reading and Spelling. RUBBISH MOOD!
Math Test for Measurement chapters 13/14. Next in Math will be GEOMETRY CHAPTER, including plane figures, quadrilaterals, perimeter and patterning, all of which we will be studying for State Assessments and 4th grade!! ☺

The kids will enjoy L. 17 DINOSAUR story in our JOURNEYS book!! YEAH!!
This week we will continue with our writing and see if we can write a persuasive story about our dream vacation destination spot! Won't that be fun to create and read??? !!!!!
This week we'll do our 3rd Math Practice Test in Computer Lab, again preparing us for State Assessments! We are busy!

Kansas Day stations: FUN!!!
Ask your family member all about the fun time we had!!!!??

Don't get discourage.
(Thought for the day!)

Announcement: You might double check with the people your child sent a Flat Stanley to so we can be sure and get the letter back! Some of the kids are anxiously awaiting their reply!! ☺ THANKS! We are enjoying seeing all of the places and documenting it on our location log in our little booklet. You'll get to see the booklet when we are all finished!!! (a few months from now!)

Exploring electricity in Science this week, so will squeeze in Fl. Stanley here & there!!! ☺

AR is coming along, but we really need to keep on a roll DAILY! Encourage home reading, as well as pumping us up here at school.

I am being pretty firm with talking or rather NOT talking in the pod, at our seats, etc. SO... don't be alarmed if those smiles in planners are yellow. That means we had to be reminded about various behavior problems! Again, THANKS for helping support us at home!

Office asks us to remind you of the yearbook order due before Mar. 1st.

Mrs. Baker